4. Emission Monitoring (a) The permittee would be required to install a non-resettable hour meter on this unit. (b) The permittee shall not operate this unit except as provided in 40 CFR §60.4211(f)(1) through (f)(3), which includes but may not be limited to: (i) Emergency situations; (ii) Operate the emergency stationary CI ICE for the purpose of maintenance checks and readiness testing, provided that the tests are recommended by federal, state, or local government, the manufacturer, the vendor, the regional transmission organization, or the insurance company associated with the engine. The emergency stationary CI ICE may be operated for emergency demand response purposes or during periods where there is a deviation of voltage or frequency as described in 40 CFR 60.4211(f)(2)(ii) and (iii). The permittee shall be limited to 100 hours per calendar year for any combination of the purposes previously stated. (iii) Operate the emergency stationary CI ICE up to 50 hours per calendar year in non-emergency situations, but those 50 hours are counted toward the 100 hours per year provided for maintenance and testing and emergency demand response. Except as provided by 40 CFR §60.4211(f)(3)(i), the 50 hours per year for non-emergency situations cannot be used for peak shaving or non-emergency demand response, or to generate income for a facility to supply power to an electric grid or otherwise supply power as part of a financial arrangement with another entity.	40 CFR §60.4209(a) 40 CFR §60.4211(f) and Table 4 of Subpart III
